Describe in relation to public electronic communications services for domestic and small business customers.

At 4tel Communications ('4tel') we are committed to providing our customers with an excellent level of service. The Complaints Procedure is described here.

4. Customer Service Continued...

How we deal with your complaint

When you contact us, we will normally ask you to give us the following information in order to deal with your complaint as efficiently as possible:

- Company Name
- Company Account Number
- Contact Name
- Contact Phone Number
- Postal Address
- Nature of the Complaint

You can give this information to us over the phone or in writing. When we have registered your complaint we will give it an identification number or 'Fault Reference' that you may refer to in any further contacts with us regarding your complaint. We will make every effort to resolve your complaint when you first contact us. However this is not always possible and we may have to investigate your complaint further. Whatever your complaint we will give you our initial response to it no longer than 5 working days from when you notified us.

Customer Complaints Procedure

If you are not happy about the way in which your complaint has been handled, you can call us on Freephone 0800 505 3210 and ask to speak to our Customer Services Manager. If after having contacted your Customer Services Manager you are still not satisfied about the way we have dealt with your complaint, you should ask for your complaint to be reviewed by the Customer Services Director. We aim to resolve all complaints within 20 working days from when you notify us but more complex cases may take longer.

Taking Further Action

If we have not been able to resolve your complaint to your satisfaction within 40 working days from when you notified us, we will send you a letter confirming this. This letter is normally referred to as a "deadlock letter" and confirms that there is nothing more we can do with respect to your complaint. When you have received the deadlock letter from us, you may wish to refer the complaint to Ombudsman Services: Communications (formally Otelo). You will find the contact details for Ombudsman Services: Communications on the last page of this leaflet.

Alternative dispute resolution procedure

Details of alternative dispute resolution arrangements in relation to the provision of public electronic communications services to domestic and small business customers.

If we have not resolved your complaint to your satisfaction after three months or if you have received a letter from us saying that your complaint has reached 'deadlock', you may make a complaint through Ombudsman Services: Communications (formally Otelo), an independent alternative dispute resolution scheme. Ombudsman Services: Communications is a free and independent service that deals with complaints by residential and small business customers against member telecommunications companies. Ombudsman Services: Communications is funded by member organizations. You will find the contact details for Ombudsman Services: Communications (formally Otelo) on the last page of this leaflet.
